Health is Not to be Taken for Granted

The Regeneration in Pentagram System
is a Unique Way to Purify the Body

Welcome Among Us!

Respect for nature and pure intention enabled us to develop an exceptionally efficient and timeless concept to regenerate our body and balance our mind. We view the human body as a single whole. There is neither health nor disease in it. Only harmony and disharmony. We look for the causes of imbalance and restore the natural strength and vitality of the body by gently influencing it. All our products are made with deep responsibility, the use of the latest knowledge of phytotherapy, aromatherapy and homeopathy and respect for the principles of Traditional Chinese medicine.

Who We Are: Our Philosophy

As an original Czech company, we have not only been able to effectively interlink our own development and production, but also to find a unique way to get our products into the hands of our customers.

Innovative nutraceuticals, therapeutic and care cosmetics, and veterinary products – all of our products are as natural, gentle and extremely effective as can be. In their development, we maintain a broad platform of ideas and keep track of synergic links between the professional public, medical circles and therapists. We respect the latest scientific advances while drawing on the knowledge and experience of traditional teachings in the philosophy of medicine.

The cornerstone of Energy's product range comprises five natural herbal concentrates forming a coherent system called Regeneration in Pentagram®. Five concentrates are structured to correspond to the energy of the five essential natural elements: Metal, Wood, Water, Earth, Fire. These products complement and balance each other and, all together, they constitute a system for an efficient regeneration of the body. We view our products and our all-round, sensitively-tailored customer care as an inseparable whole. High-quality and in-depth diagnostics, lectures, courses, our own magazines, and professional training are just part of the wide range we regularly provide and expand for all of our clients.

We feel and firmly believe that human contact is irreplaceable in this day and age. That is why we are constantly expanding not only the list of authorised locations where our products and inseparable care can be obtained, but also the countries where we provide these services. Just as energy knows no bounds, we too are creating a space in which we can move without any restrictions.

Health is Not to Be Taken for Granted

Although modern medicine has made tremendous advances in surgical procedures and in the treatment of acute illness, for centuries holistic medicine has been – and remains – the mainstay of care for our health. It respects the person as a whole – their body, mind, soul and emotion.

Humans, for millennia accustomed to living in close contact with nature, have been cast into an environment bristling with synthetic chemicals, polluted air, food poison, and stress in the last century – a tiny fraction of our existence. Understandably, all this disproportionately affects the immune system, accumulates toxic substances in the body, and the human organism is therefore easily susceptible to all manner of diseases. Chemical drugs, which are on the rise, eliminate only the symptoms of disease, but do not fix the root of the problem. Professionally speaking, current allopathic medicine is geared towards the symptomatic rather than the causal. Naturally, this is to our detriment. Thankfully, today, it is starting to heed alternative methods of treatment, based on purely natural substances that detoxify and regenerate the body and return energy and vitality to us. Health is not to be taken for granted – we must take care of it. Scientists themselves are increasingly addressing natural sources of medicines and alternative treatments that enhance the body's ability to self-heal without the use of chemicals. They are pondering the methods of old civilisations, whose treatments used not only natural drugs, but also (for example) took into account the alignment of the planets and the use of the healing energy of the universe. After all, even synthetically produced drugs ultimately hail from nature. We are sure to arrive at interesting conclusions if we think about ourselves. Although it is natural for us to keep our homes and workplaces clean and to take good care of our cars, we often neglect our bodies. At a certain stage of our life, we indulge in our love of life, we eat, drink, celebrate and travel too much, and we take

OUR PRODUCTS ARE RECOMMENDED BY DOCTORS

Energy's products can be combined with conventional medicines. However, users should always leave decisions on the use and discontinuance of medication to their attending physician. These products have both preventive and regenerative effects. They work with the body's own healing powers, whose task is to achieve harmony in the body in keeping with its natural state. If a patient is suffering from complications, it is always advisable to consult a doctor. A product consistent with the client's current state of health can accurately be identified by Supertronic.

BOARD OF EXPERTS

Since its inception, Energy has worked with physicians, specialists and therapists of all kinds. We collaborate most closely with members of the Board of Experts, which guarantees the high standard of the products and services available and is responsible for compounding the company's professional reputation.

unbridled enjoyment in all the pleasures that the world has to offer. Over time, however, we find that not every diet is good for us, lack of movement results in pain, and lack of routine paves the way to disease. It is only then that, hopefully, we become more interested in healthy living and everything related to it. People, sadly, are chancers who are loath to give up their pleasures, failing to realise in time that the key to a long and healthy life is prevention. Health can be consolidated through nutrition, sport, relaxation, medicinal plants and dietary supplements. Although these methods do not replace preventative medical examinations, they can be an important complement, enabling us to go through all of the stages of life healthy, happy and full of energy. If we take into account the natural needs of our own body, we can certainly achieve success in this respect. Though health is a basic prerequisite for satisfaction and success in our work, family and social lives, we should not take it for granted.

The Regeneration in Pentagram System is a Unique Way to Purify the Body

PENTAGRAM® – UNIQUELY COMPOSED HERBAL CONCENTRATES AND CREAMS
 The cornerstone of Energy's product range comprises five natural herbal concentrates forming a coherent system called Regeneration in Pentagram®. It is based on the principle of bioinformation therapy and on a holistic approach to a person who takes into account that the body and mind are interconnected and focuses on the whole personality (from a mental, emotional, spiritual and physical point of view).

Bioinformatics work on two main levels in the human body: natural substances directly affect body organs, and bioinformation – through the principle of bioresonance – affects the brain's basal ganglia. Bioinformation amplifies the effect of products and harmonises the entire human energy system. Five herbal concentrates are structured to correspond to the energy of the five essential natural elements, the synergy of which is, according to traditional Chinese medicine, the key to health: Vironal – Metal, Regalen – Wood, Renol – Water, Gynex – Earth, Korolen – Fire. This system of products covers, via its effects, all twelve basic energy pathways – meridians, through which it acts on the detoxification and regeneration of the whole organism. The products can be used sequentially in the indicated order as an overall detoxification course for the preventive enhancement of health, thus activating the whole body's energy system, or in a targeted, individual way, depending on the nature of a particular health problem. For the exact ordering and for targeted use, it is advisable to consult the experts at Energy Clubs, where you can also test the optimal product using the Supertronic EAV. Besides the five herbal concentrates intended for internal use, the Regeneration in Pentagram® system is complemented by five bioinformation creams, which also correspond to the energies of the five elements in traditional Chinese medicine: Droserin – Metal, Protectin – Wood, Artrin – Water, Cytovital – Earth, Ruticelit – Fire. The creams can be used either in combination with the herbal concentrates or separately, when they are applied locally to the sites of the relevant energy pathways or over the locations of the organs that affect these pathways. More detailed information about these products can be found in the "Regeneration in Pentagram®" brochure.

The herbal concentrates and creams can be used either on their own or in combination with other Energy products, depending on the specific problem. Combining the internal use of a concentrate with the external use of a cream opens up other possibilities of regeneration, whether preventive or therapeutic. The image of the

Pentagram® Rose (top right) provides basic information about which products apply to which organs:

VIRONAL – DROSERIN
 They primarily affect the meridian of the lung, colon, small intestine, and spleen. Both products can be used preventively, but also for acute viral and bacterial infections, such as influenza, angina, upper respiratory tract inflammation, and high temperature, to induce sweating, and to improve the immune and lymphatic systems. Vironal may also be taken during antibiotic treatment. Droserin helps in response to the first symptoms of flu.

REGALEN – PROTEKTIN
 They affect the meridian of the liver, gallbladder, stomach, and spleen, and the governing vessel. They are particularly suitable for digestive problems and for the detoxification and regeneration of the organism (biliary disorders, flatulence, exhaustion, asthma, allergies, eczema, etc.). Regalen is suited to spring cleansing procedure. Protectin works on all itchy rashes.

RENOL – ARTRIN
 They are proven to help with disorders on the meridian of the kidneys and bladder in particular. They successfully assist in regenerating this area. Both products are used for degenerative joint diseases, the swelling of the limbs and around the eyes. Renol is also used to increase immunity. Artrin is an ideal cream for the treatment of the musculoskeletal system.

GYNEX – CYTOVITAL
 In particular, they influence the conception meridian and the triple warmer meridian. They accelerate the overall regeneration of the female and male organisms and are distinguished by their anti-inflammatory effects. In addition to the beneficial effects for female diseases, Gynex helps to reduce appetite during weight-loss diets, and also successfully stabilises the psyche and has excellent skin effects. Cytovital prevents wrinkles and counteracts cellulite.

KOROLEN – RUTICELIT
 Both products address problems on the heart meridian, governing vessel and three burners meridian. Korolen is suitable for the prevention of cardiovascular diseases, counteracts elevated cholesterol, stress, and fatigue syndrome, and improves blood quality. In addition, it promotes the activity of the central nervous system, and helps with insomnia, senility and most mental disorders. The effects of Ruticelit (among other things) strengthen the vascular wall.

Pentagram® concentrates have far-ranging application in prevention and assistance with health problems, and can be successfully combined with the therapeutic practices of conventional medicine.

The Pentagram® of Concentrates – Modern-day Phytotherapy

Medicinal plants have been a source of therapy since time immemorial. The original practices, nothing short of alchemical, have evolved over the centuries into a respectable, effective and gentle way of treating serious and minor ailments alike. To achieve a deep-rooted, efficacious effect, we decided to develop advanced phytotherapeutic products known as “superconcentrates”. What makes them so exceptional?

Anyone making an extract-based product has to start by turning to nature. Herbs are harvested in the wild or special herb gardens, where they are gently removed and the required parts are separated. Some of are processed fresh, while others are best dried slowly and stored for later use. Blends prepared in this way, which must be proportioned to match the precise formula of the product they are to be used in, are ready for the first and most important technological step – extraction. Although there are countless ways to extract active substances from plant material these days, the best and most efficient way remains a water-alcohol base. With this in mind, our blends are immersed into a water-alcohol bath for an average of fourteen days so that the best they have to offer is released and extracted.

The second stage is technologically more advanced and distinguishes our products and their resulting range of capabilities from all others. The extracts are highly vacuum concentrated and evaporated to produce a supercritical concentrate free of measurable alcohol. The therapeutic values of active substances in this concentrate are several times greater than those of ordinary extracts. What is more, the concentrate accounts for up to 90% of the final product’s content.

Bioinformation Is the Future

Unique detoxification and regeneration therapy with Energy products is based on the principle of resonance and action that bioinformation has on the human body. Just as we accept resonance, we should also be aware of bioresonance. Bioresonance is at the core of homoeopathy, biotherapy, the Pentagram® Regeneration system, and the EAV-based devices successfully used here and abroad to treat various diseases of affluence. Bioinformation comprises electromagnetic frequencies affecting biochemical reactions and mimicking the control frequencies of the brain’s subcortical centres that regulate the autonomic nervous system and the work of the internal organs. However, as the frequency pattern of bioinformation is only approximate, it must be repeated at regular intervals. It acts on the principle of resonance.

In any organism, it is possible – sooner or later – to trigger the regeneration process according to certain rules. It is enough for the information used to resemble at least partially the information we need to influence. The combination of frequencies used accelerates, inhibits or halts certain biochemical reactions. In this way, they facilitate the better use of ingredients in individual products, and where necessary they can eliminate undesirable side effects. Products in which bioinformation has been applied are then 40% to 80% more effective than bioinformation-less products. Repeated use of the right information can gradually interrupt or allay original negative information in the body. This process may then be enough to trigger regeneration. At the same time, the energy levels in the meridians are adjusted and lost power is restored.

What Makes Our Herbal Creams Exceptional

While other ointments incorporate 1% to 3% herbal extracts, Pentagram® creams contain a colossal 50% herbal extract. The carefully balanced composition is also enriched by drawing on bioinformation, enhancing the effect of the active ingredients themselves. The fatty base of the creams comprises purely natural vegetable oils. Their clear advantage is their naturally high content of care and protection substances and vitamins (castor, linseed, sesame, soyabean, poppy and hemp oil). Other active ingredients include liposomes, AHAs and lecithin, which make significant qualitative contributions. Integral components of the herbal creams are energetically charged mineral water from the Podhájska thermal spring in Slovakia, with properties comparable to Dead Sea water, potassium humate, with powerful anti-inflammatory effects, and extracts of precious resins (myrrh, frankincense, Croton lechleri), ensuring the maximum regenerating effect of the creams.

Pentagram® creams are exceptional not only for their composition, but also for their therapeutic use. They are of guaranteed natural origin and contain no stabilisers or synthetic fragrances, and therefore cause no adverse skin reactions. As the active ingredients in Pentagram® creams are mixed with an oily base, they penetrate very easily into the deeper layers of the skin and, from there, into the tissue. The use of bioinformation creams therefore has a positive effect not only on the skin itself, but also – via energy pathways – on deep-seated organs and their systems.

To target the action of the creams precisely, it is advisable to use a reflex therapy method and to apply them to the reflex zones of individual organs on the palms or feet. You can also increase their effectiveness by working on the zones at a time when the relevant meridian (energy pathway) is in an active phase.

The Pentagram® system is an extremely useful diagnostic tool helping us to understand the causes of illnesses and problems better and more easily. However, you should be aware that the causes of our difficulties lie not only in the outside world, in external factors such as viruses, bacteria, wars, hurricanes, or increasing air pollution. Many diseases are caused by ourselves, our poor dietary habits, pathological mental processes, and suppressed or uncontrolled emotions. Pentagram®, then, is not only a means of physical and mental balance, but also a teacher as you follow a path to get to know yourself.

Supertronic Diagnostics

One of the definitions of health is the balance of energy in the body. Any deviation could, over time, cause health problems that we are initially entirely unaware of. When a disease is latent, however, it can reliably be identified by a device that works on the principle of EAV (Electroacupuncture according to Voll). Energy's consultants use Supertronic to measure energy in the body. This is an electronic device which, by measuring the electrical resistance of the skin at precisely defined acupuncture points, detects the current energy state of an organ meridian, or of the organ or its tissue directly. In layman's terms, it examines how autonomous centres in the brain and the spinal cord control the various organs and their tissues. In addition, it can test the suitability of bioinformatics for a particular person.

By measuring points on the hands and feet and then analysing their values, it can quite accurately determine the source of any problems. It is possible to determine the type of stress, which enzymatic systems are not working at 100%, or whether there is a malabsorption disorder in the small intestine, and detect infectious conditions. This is not a medical diagnosis. Instead, it ascertains how the various systems are functioning. After this analysis, a specific product or a combination of products to help restore organ function – to regenerate it – can then be tested directly. Energy diagnostics is a non-invasive method allowing for the early detection of functional problems in an organ. It is most significant in health prevention; here, regeneration is most effective and the cause of organ dysfunction can be reliably remedied. If a healthy person has themselves measured at least once every six months, they need not be worried about dangerous chronic illnesses. The device identifies dysfunction before any symptoms are manifested. The subsequent regenerative action of the tested product prevents further development of the disorder and returns the functioning of the organ to normal values. If a client who has already been measured shows certain symptoms, Supertronic can target regeneration directly to the origin of the disease and the body returns to normal much faster. Even in cases of severe and often untreatable disorders, at least partial remediation occurs during six to nine months of targeted regeneration. How long regeneration takes depends on the depth and length of the disorder. With young people or disorders that have recently appeared, the situation may be rectified within three weeks. Regeneration can usually be combined with conventional treatment because the principle of regenerative action is completely different from the effects of conventional drugs. The Supertronic measurement method is designed to detect functional problems, which differ from medical diagnostics, where organic disorders and anatomical changes are detected. Therefore, medical diagnostics should not be confused with energy diagnostics, which complements conventional medical diagnostics well and is a beneficial alternative form of health care.

WHAT YOU SHOULD KNOW

- » Although Energy products have a wide range of effects, each of them influences a certain area of the body. The product you use prepares another system of organs for regeneration, and this brings about the gradual recovery of the whole body. We deal with one problem at a time. As a result, regeneration can sometimes take longer because disorders are remedied gradually.
- » When handling chronic conditions and administering a product to children, it is always preferable to start with lower doses – start with one drop and gradually move towards the recommended dosage. During pregnancy and if medical conditions are complicated, you must consult a doctor.

How to “Kick-start” the Organism Most Successfully

Not even the most refined product can replace the controlling frequencies of the nervous system. These vary according to the needs of organs, whereas a product is “concocted” for good. However, it can be likened to a starter that ignites the regeneration processes. Once regeneration begins, you need to allow the process to be completed in the body's control centres, and to discontinue the product for the recommended time.

If you do not do this, the body will stop responding to the product. It is therefore necessary to repeat the product use with regular breaks. For minor health problems, we recommend three weeks of use. For moderate dysfunctions, have a one-week break after three weeks' use, then repeat the treatment. For more severe conditions and if users are elderly, it is sometimes necessary to employ 3x3 weeks of use, always with weekly pauses.

The nervous system's control structures also need to be given time to repair previous damage in the functioning of the organ. If you exchange one product for another with a recommended weekly break, this pause may not always be sufficient. Here, we recommend a break of at least 14 days to one month between two different products in order for the regeneration process to be completed. Control centres may not always have enough energy to fix damage on multiple levels. While they are completing regeneration initiated after previous use, the premature administration of another product could re-orient regeneration in a different direction, thereby eliminating previous effects. A younger body only needs a short pause, but the older the user the longer the breaks should be. After measuring your body energy with Supertronic, experts will be able to advise you of the optimal product and procedure.

Energy for Health, Prevention and Problem-solving

The sophisticated and innovative Pentagram® Regeneration system has been expanded to include a number of add-on products so that we are able to offer our customers a simple and clear concept that takes care of the health of their entire body.

OTHER HERBAL CONCENTRATES

These are inherently similar to Pentagram® products, but primarily develop opportunities to adapt and stimulate the organism. Stimaral is designed to adapt the body better to increased mental stress and new settings. It can be used for calming, improved concentration, and increased brain activity. King Kong is an excellent addition for athletes, people with increased physical and mental stress, seniors and patients convalescing after injuries and operations.

SOLITARY HERBAL CONCENTRATES

The effects of some medicinal plants are so strong that they act most effectively on their own. Annona muricata has proven to provide supportive care for cancer patients. For resistant infectious diseases that are recurrent, resist both conventional and alternative treatments, and cause major health complications, Cistus incanus – rockrose extract – is a good choice. It is a great help for diseases caused by viruses, as well as by bacteria, fungi or chlamydia. Tribulus terrestris, the plant well known as an aphrodisiac, has a number of metabolic effects in addition to the way it acts beneficially on the hormonal system, overall performance and fitness. It also supports vital-organ function.

DEFENCE AGAINST INFECTION

Defence is a favourite word among doctors and the general public alike. Everyone is interested in how to protect and defend themselves effectively against bacteria, viruses and fungi. As we are living in times when certain drugs are losing their efficacy, natural substances that work effectively and do not burden the body are coming to the fore. The Grepofit range, in the form of capsules, drops, sprays and nasal wash, fits the bill perfectly. These products contain grapefruit or grapefruit-seed extract and other ingredients with natural anti-infective effects. Drags Imun is a crude resin obtained from the South American Croton lechleri, a plant that grows in the Amazon region and has been integral to the folk healing practises of the indigenous peoples here for centuries. This product is prized primarily for its antiviral, antibacterial and antioxidant effects. It is complemented well by Drags Imun soap.

OTHER DIETARY SUPPLEMENTS

Our range of other natural products is varied and is constantly expanding as we cater to our customers' requirements. Below we single out the most popular products here. Flavocel contains an effective combination of vitamin C, essential oils and flavonoids from Sudanese hibiscus, Imunosan a complex of selected extracts from medicinal mushrooms compiled according to traditional Eastern teachings, and Peralgin an extract from Perilla frutescens L. as first aid in response to allergic problems. Skeletin takes care of the musculoskeletal system with a cuttlebone extract. Revitae, containing natural anti-stress substances, adds strength when you are under excessive physical or mental stress. Vitamarin supplements much needed unsaturated fatty acids.

NATURAL MINERALS AND VITAMINS

Natural extracts from plants and fruits, as full-blown sources of essential vitamins and minerals, have undeniable advantages over artificially produced forms. In nature, these elements are always in harmony with other substances that play an irreplaceable role in the resulting complex. They are extremely important in particular on account of their synergies, which enhance their effect, absorption and overall range of use. Fytomineral supplies the body with an almost absolute spectrum of highly absorbable colloidal minerals, while Vitaflorin combines the best natural sources of vitamins into their most effective composition and form.

PROBIOTICS

Probiotic cultures of bacteria help to maintain healthy microflora in the human digestive tract. This is important for proper digestion and good immunity. Probiotics prevent the propagation of disease-causing microbes, especially bacteria and fungi, in the intestinal tract and throughout the body. They also play a role in preventing cancer and food allergies. They are suitable as an adjunct to antibiotic treatment. They are used during and after such treatment. Probiosan contains not only beneficial bacteria but also the freshwater algae Chlorella, which also incorporates high levels of beneficial nutrients into the product to boost detoxification and nutrition.

Probiosan Inovum is enriched with significant colostrum and beta-glucans, which promote the product's focus on the overall reinforcement of immunity.

HERBAL TEAS

Concentrates figure among the "top-drawer" therapeutic tools, whereas tea belongs to a slow-acting group that, if used long term, carries undisputed importance. In most cases, the active ingredients are soluble in water and, after a certain boiling time, pass from the plant matter into the aqueous solution. Our tea range includes herbs from South

American primeval forests: Lapacho with its distinct anti-inflammatory, antioxidant and anti-cancer action, Chanca Piedra, used mainly for digestive and urogenital diseases, and Uncaria tomentosa (Vilcacora), proven to counter inflammatory and infectious diseases. Smilax officinalis harmonises the renal and bladder path, Tribulus terrestris is used in infertility in both men and women, and Maytenus ilicifolia acts on digestion and immunity and is recommended during the menopause.

BATHS

Biotermal is an effective bath salt of Tertiary thermal water. Whole body skincare and detoxification support in the form of concentrated bath supplements are integral to the product range. Biotermal bioinformation bath salt from the thermal water of the Podhájska spring has significant regenerative effects and supports the release of toxic substances from the body. It has a soothing and relaxing effect on the psyche, counteracts pain and improves the condition of the musculoskeletal system.

ANTISEPTIC PRODUCTS

Audiron is an excellent product for treating the ears and related difficulties, and can also be used for herpesvirus diseases. The legendary Spiron instantly evokes an atmosphere of harmony and tranquillity in any setting, helps to cleanse the mind, and guarantees a sound sleep. It is ideal for refreshing and disinfecting not only the air, but also wounds and various objects. It contains the synergy of selected natural essential oils.

OPTIMAL CONDITIONS FOR REGENERATION

Detoxification of the body is at the core of regeneration, so it is necessary to provide the body with sufficient fluids, preferably pure water, in order to release loose undesirable substances from the organism easily. If you follow the appropriate dietary precautions, eschew chemically preserved food and large amounts of red meat, salami, cans, coffee, sugar and similar foods, avoid stress situations and put more movement into your life, you will increase your success in regeneration several times over. Not everyone is able to do this, but it is at least advisable to come as close to this ideal as you can.

TOOTHPASTES

The toothpastes Diamond, Silix and Balsamio rely on Tertiary thermal water, a herbal extract complex and Croton lechleri, which creates completely natural foaming. These toothpastes provide not only basic cleaning, but also have a microbial effect and, via the reflex zones on the tongue, affect the body's associated energy pathways. Thanks to the natural essential oils, they leave a very pleasant feeling in the mouth, which benefits from their long-lasting protection.

THE QUINTESSENCE OF NATURE

The word “quintessence” comes from Aristotle’s natural philosophy and is derived from the Latin phrase quinta essentia, i.e. “fifth essence”. Otherwise known as aether, it is the fifth, celestial element...

Green Foods

Green foods, sometimes referred to as superfoods, are unquestionably the quintessence of the world today. Hailing from purely natural sources with minimal processing, their importance lies in the various nutritional elements they contain. They are a source of essential vitamins, minerals, enzymes, antioxidants, amino acids and other substances crucial for our bodies. Whereas synthetic products are a set of isolated substances, the individual active ingredients of green foods work together in complex and precisely defined ways. They rely on the principle of synergy – the interaction of multiple substances, the resultant effect of which is compounded. What is more, all of the active ingredients are ideally proportioned to ensure their proper absorption and optimal use.

Our mission is to find the very best quintessences that can still be found in out-of-the-way spots around the world, in pockets where the environment remains pure. Only here, in virgin nature, can we harvest the finest biological resources, which we process sparingly, check thoroughly and package fresh. The true essence of these products lies in their provenance, their place of origin, their energy, and the touch of people who are involved in making them the genuine quintessence of nature.

Green foods can be where you are. Explore their wide-ranging effects and tastes.

Humates Have Far-reaching Therapeutic Use

Lately, a lot of attention has been paid to the inner and outer use of peat extracts, which have wide-ranging positive effects and an appreciable effect on the detoxification of the body as a whole. So-called humic substances can permanently bind numerous toxic and mutagenic compounds of organic origin or foreign microorganisms and expel them from the body without the risk of harming the organism.

The list of the effects that these substances have is very long. Besides their antiviral, antibacterial and antifungal activity, they have been shown to have analgesic (painkilling) effects, and their anti-inflammatory activity is particularly striking. Research has found that humic substances can slow the development of certain types of cancer. Their protective and preventive effect has been identified primarily in cases of colorectal cancer. Humic substances have an extraordinary impact on enhancing natural non-specific immunity by effectively eliminating toxic substances from the colon. Immunity is also increased by their ability to stimulate white blood cell activity. They are also known to catalyse enzymatic reactions, thereby stimulating the metabolism. Humic substances improve the oxygenation of cells thanks to their beneficial effects on the vascular system. With their ability to reduce toxic burden and their antioxidant action in tissues and joints, humic substances have a beneficial effect on diseases of the entire musculoskeletal system, including the spine, and arthrosis, arthritis and other degenerative bone and joint diseases.

Cytosan is extremely well suited to the detoxification of the internal environment of cells, blood and all organs, to the regular preventive and therapeutic cleansing of the body, and to the initial stages of detoxification. Cytosan Inovum is highly focused on the precise removal of all undesirable substances from the entire digestive tract.

Cytosan and Cytosan Inovum can also be used externally to bathe surface wounds, rashes and chronic open wounds, and as a very effective cosmetic agent in the form of facial masks.

Cytosan Fomentum gel promotes skin detoxification and regeneration and has a significant anti-inflammatory effect on deeper tissue structures. Cytosan Fomentum gel compresses can therefore be used for inflammatory diseases of the internal organs.

The effects of humate products are complemented by Cytosan shampoo, which detoxifies the skin and acts on the reflex zones.

Balneol is designed especially for baths, but it can also be used for treatment as a compress.

The need for the regular detoxification of the human body is an indisputable fact. No matter how disciplined people are in their lives, the human body wears and becomes clogged with waste substances. This toxic burden is a natural cause of ageing, susceptibility to disease and, ultimately, a cause of natural death. Just as it is necessary to regularly give your home a good clean in order to live in it, you also need to clear the "mess" from your body.

Treat Yourself to a Ritual!

Western civilisations are increasingly turning to old teachings and seeking to unlock former abilities that have been lost through the ages. The most precious state a person can have is to remain centralised, in their inner centre of gravity. From the moment they can stand upright, everyone becomes an individual determining the points of the compass. North, south, east and west are read from each person. However, various situations in life often knock us off balance and it is not always easy to return to the centre, to our original starting position. Everyone, with their individuality, energy and emotions, is more or less off-centre, and the consistency they covet must be created during their lives through relationships that help them to return to harmony – to the essence of humanity. Only this central position gives them the ability to use their natural strength. The simplest path to such equilibrium leads through small daily rituals.

The Pentagram® of Energy soaps and shampoos, Droserin, Protektin, Artrin, Cytovital and Ruticelit, are based on the unique Regeneration in Pentagram® method. Besides bioinformation creams, these products contain herbal extracts, pure natural essential oils and thermal water from the Podhájka spring. They are beneficial to the skin and hair and, through the energy system of acupuncture points and reflex zones, they also affect our overall condition and the way we process emotions. Their advantage is that they act gently, they are easy to wash away with water, and they do not unnecessarily burden our body with chemicals. Nutritive Balsam untangles hair and provides it with nutrition.

We can support and supplement the effects of Pentagrams® concentrates and creams in our use of soaps and shampoos. This combination speeds up the recovery of the organism, and the synergy fulfils a traditional principle of Chinese medicine – action from the inside and the outside at the same time. We can also draw on them to devise a regular ritual for the cleansing of both the body and soul. In this way, we contribute to the creation and consolidation of harmony and follow a proven recipe for a content and meaningful life. Our care for our health and life balance gains a new, unexpected dimension.

The individual Pentagram® soaps and shampoos support the action of the five elements, so we can follow our path without worrying about straying in various directions. And there's only one thing we need for this. To take our pick.

Beauty Cosmetics: The Secrets Concealed Within

RENOVE CREAMS: FIVE ELEMENTS, MEDICINAL HERBS, PRECIOUS OILS AND ESSENCES

A true secret is concealed not only in every product in the Renove care creams series, but, first and foremost, within each of us. As outer beauty reflects the state of our inner body and mind, we care not only for the skin, but also for the harmony of the organism as a whole. If you crave perfect skin, you must first understand your body!

Pentagram® care creams offer a unique opportunity not only to take care of your skin, so that it is healthy and beautiful and so that you feel good, but also for you to connect with yourself. With these creams, you can tune in to yourself, work with intuition, discover your essence and help yourself. It's an experience you're not used to expecting from skincare cosmetics!

Basic principle

What makes Renove skin creams exceptional straight away is their underlying basic philosophy of traditional Chinese medicine – a pentagram of five elements inspiring their composition and action, mirroring Pentagram® Energy herbal concentrates and body therapy creams. The effect of the five Renove products – Artrin, Droserin, Ruticelit, Protektin and Cytovital – targets not only a particular skin type, but also organ group, mood, and internal imbalances of the organism. The individual creams combine with and complement each other to provide balance and, together, form a coherent system.

Phytotherapy

The content of the cosmetics is as natural as possible. The basis is a high 16% share of herbs macerated in Tertiary thermal water from Podhájska, which enhances their effect with its balanced content of minerals and trace elements. The tried-and-tested, well-working pentagram-based compositions contain between 13 and 19 medicinal herbs, depending on the product type. This is the same as the Pentagram® therapy creams.

Virgin oils

Precious cold-pressed vegetable oils are added to medicinal herbs to support the nutrition and fresh look of the skin, provide additional vitamins and minerals, reduce wrinkles, ensure the even spread of pigmentation and deliver other effects that every woman expects of quality cosmetics. These oils come from the North African Berber regions of Morocco and Tunisia.

A combination of the controlled harvesting of plants in the wild and manual processing creates excellent conditions for their purity and effectiveness. They are one of the reasons why Renove creams are gentle to the skin, absorb well, apply well and last long.

Natural perfume

Equally precious and quality essences in aromatherapy quantities, also imported from exotic Africa, lend each cream an enunciated, distinctive and characteristic fragrance (such as jasmine, rose or vanilla). Each is selected to support a particular pentagram element. They are a means of fine therapy that has the formidable ability to reach deep into the mind and harmonise inner strength. As they contain the very essence of herbs, they are the richest substances in the plant kingdom, and many of them are among the most expensive.

Free of chemicals

We believe it is also very important that the manufacturing process excludes entirely the use of parabens, synthetic dyes and fragrances, mineral oils, oil derivatives, genetically modified organisms, chemical UV filters and SLS.

THE ICING ON THE CAKE

The Pentagram® of Renove natural creams are complemented by cosmetic skincare products of the utmost quality: Visage Serum with enzymatic protein complex, Visage Oil with natural oils, essences and herbs, and Visage Water, containing Damask rose hydrolate. Almond oil and argan oil, the most valuable and precious of pure natural oils, are the absolute cream of the crop. There is no better way of taking care of your skin!

Veterinary Range

In addition to regeneration products intended for humans, you can also offer the best of regeneration to your animal friends. Animals are the focus of the Energyvet product line, which draws on proven human products and is adapted to the much more sensitive organism of animals. Regeneration neatly complements conventional treatment and expands the opportunities available to both veterinarians and breeders when remedying health conditions and diseases that are untreatable or very difficult to treat.

Broadly speaking, when they are ill, all animals respond to food supplements much better than humans do. They are more in tune with nature, more “on Earth”, in the here and now, they are not so weakened and burdened by thought, pretence or hypocrisy, and they are more direct and simple. Their immune system is less burdened because they are more likely to have the chance to self-heal. As a result, the regeneration process with natural products is more effective. Our veterinary products are popular among breeders and vets because they are easy to use and well tolerated, with no undesirable side-effects. The effect usually occurs quickly, and the animal’s condition may even improve in just a few hours. They can readily be combined with conventional drugs, whose effect is boosted by Energy products. They can also be used as first aid in acute conditions, and are often the only effective means of addressing chronic illness. They are suitable for all species of animals. For farmers and livestock breeders, it is also a big plus that the use of these products does not affect the quality of milk, meat and other animal products. Another advantage is the reduced treatment time and costs.

REGENERATION CREATES CONDITIONS FOR RECOVERY

Regeneration returns the functioning of an organ or tissue to its original state. It hinges on rest. The affected tissue, organ or bodily function needs help to get its energy back so that it can change for the better. In this regard, unlike conventional treatment, we do not act on the affected organ, but create conditions for its better nutrition, metabolism, metabolic enhancement, enhanced immunity, and improved control of functions by the autonomic nervous system. Work with Pentagram® Energyvet detects exactly what needs to be addressed. Here, the basic elements of Fire, Earth, Metal, Water, and Wood are interlinked with notional energy in a clockwise direction.

PENTAGRAM® ENERGYVET

The body can increase activity in only one of its basic functions at any one time. The resistance that protects against external and internal adverse influences is boosted by Virovet. Renovet’s task is to cleanse the body and manage water, creating an optimal ion environment for the workings of the whole body’s enzymes. The metabolism itself and the production of biologically active substances itself are the domain of Regavet. Korovet helps to transport them to the target point in the body. These substances are then used in the form of secretory activity or the formation of new cells, which is promoted by Gynevet. These five essential herbal concentrates are Pentagram® Energyvet. They are supplemented by two herbal products: Kingvet, which stimulates all body movement inside and outside the body at cellular level, and Etovet, supporting the activity of weakened nerve centres.

OTHER PRODUCTS

Apart from the main products, there are also auxiliary products, for which the indications are much easier. Like the herbal concentrates, they are purely natural in origin, with a broad range of use in the animal’s organism. Cytovet removes the toxic burden, acidity in the body and undesirable products of inflammation. Imunovet helps with healing and acts as a natural and harmless antibiotic. Skelevet has the effect of supplementing bone minerals and native collagen. Fytovet contains minerals and trace elements in the most usable colloidal form. Omegavet is a source of fat-soluble vitamins along with omega-unsaturated fatty acids. Probiovet is a probiotic suitable for feeding with granules and feedstuffs containing chemical preservatives, which have a negative effect on healthy digestion. Annovet is prized for its ability to destroy cancer cells, certain parasites, and antibiotic-resistant bacteria. Two products are intended for external use: Audivet, for the surface treatment of inflammations, and the soothing Epivet shampoo, which acts against external parasites. Details, including indications for each individual product, can be found in the product overview, in product leaflets, and online at www.energyvet.com.

HOW TO CHOOSE THE CORRECT PRODUCT?

The use of regenerative products is based on work with Pentagram® Energyvet, which helps to identify the origin of the disease, its further development in the body, and the most appropriate major regeneration product. Another simple tool for choosing the right product is Grafikon, which is based on Pentagram® rules. All other relevant information can be found at www.energyvet.com.

Exceptional Products In Exceptional Places

As our products are so exceptional, we believe that exceptional means of presenting them to our customers are in order. On some markets, we are opening concept stores, where we strive to create conditions and space that will enable us to unlock and unleash the potential of our products.

CONCEPT STORES

For us, the sale of a product, while an important part of the overall value, is just the halfway point. It is equally crucial for us to be intimately aware of the client's individual needs so that we can provide sensitive and comprehensive care. We take the time to listen. We explore our customers' background so that we can offer them a solution that will prove effective on a lasting basis. We focus on carrying out high-quality diagnosis, identifying the right treatment, and providing follow-up care.

Our concept stores offer customers a wide range of expert consultations and presentations, a choice of high-quality complementary services, and a wealth of information about natural medicine.

We aspire to create a natural space, place and time for the harmony of body and mind. This is reflected in the new interior design of our concept stores. The natural materials used in the light and airy concept of the modern design elicit the relaxed atmosphere of peace and well-being that we all sorely need.

You Can Find Everything You Need On the Internet

The Energy website provides a full run-down of the product range, news and healthy-lifestyle articles. For animal-lovers, breeders and vets, there is a web portal on a special range of natural products for animal patients.
